

WHITE WATER RAFTING ADVENTURE

Summer 2011

30 km WHITE WATER RAFTING ADVENTURE

Having survived a short white water rafting trip I'm inspired to try a white water rafting adventure. A full boat plunges with force through the biggest rapids of the first few kilometres. After a while I can draw breath and compose myself to enjoy the natural surroundings of the riverside, paddling casually and now and then using the motor. On the journey we meet salmon fishermen in river boats. With a smile we decide that they must have caught something. Small rapids provide more speed between the quieter waters. While the skipper makes lunch for us on a camp fire we sunbathe deservedly on the cliff top, all the while drying our equipment. Strengthened by the tasty lunch and with the taste of coffee lingering on our lips we shove off. On the way we see a big grayling jumping near the shore, or was it a salmon? We glide easily towards Reponiemi, where our transport is ready and waiting. The service is good even up here in the far north.
